How should fitment feel when first fitting?

Snug / tight fitment unless otherwise requested for maximum safety. It may feel “too small or too tight” in certain areas which is normal - these areas will loosen as your wear and break-in the garment/gloves.

Dont’s panic if tight - it will soften and stretch. Although a snug fitment, it should not be restrictive to impact your range of motion on the motorcycle.

How to break in your new custom order

Wear frequently for extended periods, both around the house and on rides.

Sweat and moisture help soften the leather. So the more you use, the quicker it will break in. Typical break in 1-4 hours of use.

Leather conditioner and treatment products may help soften the leather to speed up the process

Make use of an base layer when fitting as the liner netting will stick to your skin and will worsen with moisture.
